

Brazilian Journal of Biology

VOLUME 63

NOVEMBER, 2003

NUMBER 4

EDITORIAL NOTE

In this number the Brazilian Journal of Biology presents the names of the new members of its advisory and editorial boards. In introducing this change, the BJB aims to broaden the expertise represented by both and, at the same time, include a wide range of geographic distribution of scientists in these two reviewing systems.

With this initiative, the BJB aims to further improve the quality of the publication and expand its outreach.

The Editorial Board