On April 15, 2020, the Brazilian Journal of Medical and Biological Research (BJMBR) received a request from the Corresponding author Zhibin Ge to withdraw this manuscript: “In a subsequent experiment, we repeated the experiment in this manuscript. Unfortunately, we had different results than before. This led to inaccurate conclusions in the manuscript. In order to ensure the accuracy of the articles we have published, we must request retraction. All authors agree to this retraction”.

As per consensus between the Editors-in-Chief of the BJMBR and the Authors, the article has been retracted.
