

Editorial

The Brazilian Journal of Veterinary Parasitology from the number 3, volume 19, year 2010 starts to publish full papers, research notes and review articles in English as we communicated in the last editorial. So that we are taking a step forward to disseminate knowledge produced in Brazil to the international scientific community. It is important to divulgate that RBPV now is incorporated into the of ScieLO database <http://www.scielo.br/rbpv>. In addition, our goal to provide the journal's articles with DOI and JCR was achieved. RBPV will continue to be a vehicle for dissemination of Veterinary Parasitology. Our dream has been kept alive and is now renewed, and RBPV thrives on the continually evolving scientific knowledge.
